

GENERAL DATA PROTECTION REGULATION (“GDPR”)

Compliance and Implementation

25 May 2018 | the deadline for observing the GDPR’s provisions is rapidly approaching. Certain actions are being required

GDPR imposes a new set of rules to

- companies
- government agencies
- non-profit organizations
- other organizations offering goods and services within the EU territory or processing data tied to EU residents

As the deadline for GDPR compliance is rapidly approaching, it is mandatory for the above-mentioned entities to proceed to determining the risks to be managed and the assessment of the type of data that needs to be protected and secured, putting processes in place so that they are in line with GDPR principles and requirements.

- Are the personal data legally collected?
- Where are they stored?
- Who has access to them?
- Will we be able to grant access to the data subjects or to provide them with their own data, for portability purposes?
- What is our procedure in case of breach of the IT system?

These are the questions to be asked before even beginning to align the Company’s internal processes to the GDPR.

Make sure your company is GDPR compliant and that observes the deadline!
